1. The existing Executive Committee of the Shanghai Soviet Citizens Association (SCA), appointed during the Soviet repatriation program in 1947, decided to call a General Election in February 1948 although the tenure of office of both the Executive Committee and the Revision Commission would not expire until May 1948. This irregular General Election was necessary because approximately 70% of the SCA officials elected in June 1947 as well as a considerable number of the most active Soviet citizens in Shanghai had been repatriated to the USSR.
  2. Among the preparations for the February 1948 elections was the re-division of the 28 Shanghai districts, or rayons, into only 12 districts, with 12 delegates to be elected by each 100 SCA voters. Another preliminary step was a re-registration of Soviet citizens remaining in Shanghai. The deadline set for this re-registration was extended twice before the registration was closed prior to the district elections at the end of January 1948. New membership cards, issued during the re-registration, were to be used as personal election credentials to be produced by the bearer each time an election meeting was held.
  3. District meetings for balloting purposes were held separately in each district with a chairman and a secretary presiding and a delegate from the SCA Election Commission supervising. Names of candidates were proposed by both the chair and the forum and voted on by raised hands. Balloting by districts started on 25 January and ended on 4 February 1948. The various district meetings were presided over by the following persons:

II	L. L. Nemirovsky, Chairman G. B. Babinovich, Secretary M. S. Dobrokhotoy, SCA Representative

279

Note: See paragraph 9 for a list of district delegates elected. According to the 10 February 1948 issue of Novosti Dnya/See Attachment I/ a total of 283 delegates was elected--this total probably includes the delegates elected by Soviet organizations affiliated with the SCA; this same reason may also account for the different total number of delegates mentioned in Novaya Zhizn. The total, 279, presented above and in paragraph 9 was compiled from the daily announcements in the Shanghai Soviet press).

4. While district elections were in full progress, Soviet organizations affiliated with the SCA held their own re-registrations and general meetings in which delegates were selected for the General Election Meeting of the SCA. Because of the 1947 re-registration program, these organizations had also lost the majority of their members and some of these organizations affiliated with the SCA even ceased to exist. The following are some organizations among those still active:
